Dale's search for recognition takes him from the working-class streets of Whitley Bay in the North East of England before World War II to Mayfair's prestigious Connaught Hotel as an apprentice chef. After three years RAF National Service, he moves into management but greener grass beckons, so with his young wife, he emigrates to the United States. After three years in hotel and catering in New York and Pennsylvania he returns to the UK and into senior catering management, where his technical and management qualifications steer him into lecturing. Then with an Open University degree, he is appointed a College Head and then Marketing Director in Birmingham. He leaves to develop his own consultancy, while for recreation, he runs ultra-marathons and triathlons. Eventually he retires to concentrate on his jazz group, banjo, conversational French, marathons and golf.

The Builder

Born during the first Christmas of WW1, unwanted and illegitimate Jessica was born in Fulham to the backdrop of exploding bombs. This intriguing true to life story follows Jessica and her son Donald through the London blitz and the difficult days through his schooling and working life. Although he never knew his real Grandmother, Donald embarked upon the massive journey to trace his step Grandparents which takes him back to the 1860's where they lived in Germany and Regents Park. With twists and turns and set in the back drop of two world wars will Donald ever find out why his mother was abandoned? What surprises will be found? Will he ever find his real Grandmother? A compelling true to life story.

Electrical Inspection, Testing and Certification

This Code of Practice has been revised to reflect current best practice. It gives guidance to those responsible for the inspection, testing and maintenance of electrical appliances. The text specifies the frequency and scope of inspections and testing in different environments. The new revision is printed in colour and includes many drawings aimed at helping to identify common problems.

Impact of Science on Society

Addresses the areas highlighted as poor in the Chief Examiner's feedback of candidate performance Assists students in decoding questions found in the City and Guilds 2394 and 2395 exams Uses realistic exam questions as examples and rather than simply providing the answers, explains how the student should go about answering a question of that type. An essential guide to the City and Guilds 2394/2395 Initial Verification and Certification of Electrical Installation and Periodic Inspection and Testing qualifications, this book addresses the areas which have resulted in a considerable failure rate, such as the technical and legal terminology used within these exams. Full coverage of technical terms is included, as is the structure of exam questions and their interpretation. By running through examples of real exam questions in a step-by-step fashion, this book explains how to decode the questions and examine the answer choices in order to get to the correct answers. This book is ideal for all electricians, regardless of their experience, who need a testing qualification in order to take the next step in their career.

Anyone studying journalism, or training for the industry, will benefit from the broad scope of information and guidance packed into this textbook. Those already employed in journalism or related areas will also find it useful as a reference book. Essential techniques employed by journalists working across all media are supplemented with detailed sections on the workings of public administration, law, health and safety, regulation and training. Each chapter concludes with suggested learning activities and an extensive list of resources for further study and investigation. The approach throughout chapters covering background issues (e.g. law) is 'journalism centred': all topics are related to the interests and concerns of journalists and journalism. Students of the City and Guilds Diploma in Media Techniques will find the book particularly relevant to their studies as it has been developed to reflect the syllabus of this course.
